CDW PEOPLE WHO GET IT™
MOBILITY WITH UNCOMPROMISED SECURITY.

Business doesn't sit still. That makes mobile access to data and applications key to productivity. But both corporate and personal devices can open up your network to an ever–growing list of threats. And if you're not sure what's accessing your data, there's no way to know if it's safe.

+ STRATEGICALLY PLANNED
A comprehensive strategy is important to any mobile security solution. You'll need well–defined policies for both corporate–issued and BYOD devices to help users avoid risky behavior. And since your employees are only human, tools like remote locking and wiping are helpful in case of device theft or loss.

+ CLOSELY SUPERVISED
If you can monitor the devices and data moving about your network, you are better poised to stop malicious traffic. Access to networks, programs and data can be limited to authenticated users in order to protect your business from unauthorized applications, mobile malware and other threats.
